Clarita

Amish Crafts, Antiques and Auction

Sept. 14, 2019

DONT" FORGET YOUR SHOPPING BAGS!!! (and your appetite).

Enjoy a cup of coffee, a morning snack and some fellowship while we travel southeast to the community of Clarita.

With energy levels high and filled with eager anticipation, arrive in Clarita late morning in time for lunch on your own.

The second Saturday of September each year an auction is held on a farm near Clarita to raise funds for the local Amish School. Farm equipment, livestock, antiques, and an array of all sorts of items are auctioned. However, the highlight of the auction is the many colorful hand-made Amish quilts are put on the auction block. As soon as the current year's inventory is sold, the task begins again with quilting's being held weekly in different community homes.

As well as items to be auctioned, craft and antique booths are set up so that guests can buy directly from the crafter. All food booths are Amish including home-made ice cream, breads, pies, cakes and pastries.

Afternoon free, shop and munch to your heart's desire.

Mid-late afternoon depart for Oklahoma City. Is that groaning we hear coming from the overstuffed overheads and bus bays?

An included dinner is planned before arriving back in Oklahoma City early evening.
